

PROCLAMATION

LIFE SCIENCES WEEK

WHEREAS the City of Fort Saskatchewan is proud of the Edmonton Metropolitan Region's leadership in the life sciences sector, driven by its cutting-edge technology, expert workforce, and world-class educational institutions;

WHEREAS Fort Saskatchewan is confident that the Edmonton Region's abundant talent, infrastructure, and resources will position Canada to support cutting-edge research in areas such as diabetes, virology, and precision health;

WHEREAS Fort Saskatchewan recognizes that empowering the next generation is at the heart of Alberta's life sciences growth, and that Life Sciences Week presents an opportunity to engage and inspire future leaders in the industry;

WHEREAS this week-long event is a celebration of achievements and diversity, highlighting success stories, diverse perspectives, and forward-thinking initiatives that underscore the pivotal role of life sciences in shaping Alberta's economic landscape and driving future prosperity;

WHEREAS Fort Saskatchewan stands ready to support the Edmonton Region's success in driving innovation and making groundbreaking discoveries;

WHEREAS The Edmonton Region's leaders in life sciences are coming together to celebrate, discuss and invest in the future of the sector during Life Sciences Week from September 23–27, 2024, in Alberta;

WHEREAS Life Sciences Week represents an opportunity for the Edmonton Region to forge connections, build lasting partnerships, and illuminate Alberta's role at the forefront of global life sciences;

NOW, therefore, I, Mayor Gale Katchur, do hereby proclaim September 23-27, 2024, Life Sciences Week in the City of Fort Saskatchewan.

Mayor Gale Katchur
